Serving south San Antonio since 1985

Palo Alto College, one of five colleges in the Alamo Colleges District, has been a pillar of the south side community and remains dedicated to providing a high-quality education for the community.

Originally created from the desire to provide higher education to residents of south San Antonio, Palo Alto College has served over 100,000 individuals throughout San Antonio, Bexar County, and surrounding counties for more than 35 years. Today, Palo Alto College continues to follow its mission to inspire, empower, and educate our community for success. With over 11,000 students enrolled annually, Palo Alto College offers associate degrees and certificates of completion for transfer programs and continues to follow its mission to inspire, empower, and educate our community for leadership and success.

Palo Alto College is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges and a recipient of the 2015 Texas Award for Performance Excellence, a finalist for the 2016 Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award, and a Rising Star winner of the 2019 Aspen Prize for Community College Excellence.

PALO ALTO COLLEGE ATHLETICS

Palo Alto College offers a range of fitness and wellness opportunities, including an extramural Athletics program, campus recreation activities, and an Aquatic and Athletic Center for students and community use. An important aspect of the college experience is the opportunity to engage with fellow students outside of the classroom. By building relationships with others on campus, students are more likely to return and complete their educational goals. A majority of PAC student athletes not only complete their courses at a higher rate than the average student population, but they are more likely to enroll in consecutive semesters to continue their higher education journey.

For more information about Palo Alto College Athletics including upcoming tryouts, visit alamo.edu/pac/athletics.
